

Hanyang University ERICA

Education + Research + Industry + Cluster at Ansan = ERICA

Hanyang University ERICA is nationally recognized as Korea's best academic cluster in the city of Ansan, located on the country's west coast. The ERICA Campus represents a new model of industry-academic cooperation in which talented, next-generation leaders are practically educated and professionally trained to meet the growing demands of society. ERICA is extremely active in joint research with research institutes and field practice with companies, and is continuing to set new standards for specialized universities. Based on its world-class educational infrastructure, research capabilities, and state-of-the-art facilities, ERICA has become one of the most sought-after universities in Korea, particularly as its national and international rankings in various university evaluations continue to rapidly improve. Cumulatively, the Hanyang University Foundation, which includes the Seoul and ERICA campuses, boasts the largest number of alumni among universities in Korea that have become CEOs of variously-sized companies and major corporations. In addition, the city of Ansan, in which ERICA is located, is one of the most internationalized cities in Korea that is home to a diversity of restaurants and stores operated by nationals from China, Russia, Uzbekistan, Mongolia, Vietnam, and various Muslim countries near the campus.
